

PRESS RELEASE

Colortronic systems to merge with motan.

Friedrichsdorf, April 2010
No. 03/2010

As from April 2010 all colortronic systems products will be sold under the motan brand. This will enable the motan-colortronic sales network to offer a full range of complementary products for the handling of bulk solids to the plastics compounding and plastics processing industries as well as the chemical industry.

Motan, colortronic and colortronic systems have been operating under the aegis of Ralf Schneider Holding since 2006. In January 2010, the sales organisations of the three companies have been united under the name motan-colortronic. As from April 2010 colortronic systems will be merged with motan and all products will then be supplied under the motan brand. Colortronic will remain unchanged.

Merging the two companies has long been a consideration and is being carried out within the framework of a long-term business strategy. The products they offer to the plastics compounding and plastics processing industries as well as chemical industry are complementary. By combining their product portfolios a synergy will be created which will enhance their ability to create end-to-end solutions spanning multiple market segments, for example injection moulding compounding or other in-line processes.

Colortronic systems customers will carry on receiving the same high quality products and continue to be served and benefit from the worldwide motan-colortronic sales and service network. In addition, they will now have access to a boarder range of products and solutions. From an individual unit to an integrated system – the new
